SERIOUS RUPTURE FACED BY SUPREME COUNCIL OF ALLIES

SPLIT ON QUESTION OF U. S. BATTLESHIPS GELMAN WAR DEBT

Amount of Reparations Due from Berlin and Methods of Payment Bring Row at Paris Meeting—Afternoon Session Is Called Off

PARIS.—(By Associated Press.)—The supreme council of the allies reached the most critical stage of its deliberations this afternoon. The crisis came over the question of fixing the total amount of reparations due from Germany and the methods of payment. The session of the council which was to have begun at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, was abandoned.

Optimistic feeling of this forenoon, when the members of the special reparations committee appeared yesterday expressed pleasure with their progress, was soon dissipated when the British prime minister, Mr. Lloyd-George, found the projects under discussion by the committee were entirely unsatisfactory to him. He sent at once for M. Briand, president of the French council, and conferred with him for an hour and a half. The Belgian representatives were to meet Mr. Lloyd-George later regarding their proposals.

The special committee on reparations is continuing its efforts to reconcile the different viewpoints, while M. Briand and Mr. Lloyd-George will try to find a solution in private conversations.

NATIVE OF ENGLAND SEEKS NATURALIZATION

Martin Joseph Coughlin, 50, of 22 Chester-st., filed first papers for naturalization in common pleas court Friday, declaring that he wished to become a citizen of the United States.

Coughlin said he arrived in America from his home in Banup, England, in June, 1897.

LIQUOR RAIDS STARTED TOLEDO

TOLEDO.—Two score federal agents under the supervision of Marshal Charles W. Lapp of Cleveland started on a roundup of 100 suspected liquor establishments here at noon today.

Special government officials from nearby cities were sent here to take part and lead the force of nearly 75 that is making the raids.

BRINES ACQUITTED BY COURT ORDER

Student Murder Case Brought to Abrupt End

PHILADELPHIA.—(By Associated Press.)—Judge Ferguson in criminal court today granted the motion of the defense to take from the jury the case of William P. Brines, charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of Elmer C. Drewes, on the ground that not sufficient evidence had been submitted to connect the defendant with Drewes' death.

When the court announced that after mature consideration he had decided to take the case from the jury, there was much confusion, and after order had been restored, Judge Ferguson instructed the jury to acquit the defendant, which it did without leaving the box.

Mrs. Agatha Drewes, mother of the dead Portsmouth College student, left the courtroom sobbing. She said, "This is terrible; I am stunned."

The trial of Brines began last Monday and the commonwealth closed its case last night. The motion to take the case from the jury then followed.

Drewes, who was 23 years old, was found dead on the outskirts of the city on October 17, with a bullet wound in the forehead. A few days later Brines' automobile was found abandoned and several days after he surrendered to the police, when a warrant was issued charging him with Drewes' death.

The commonwealth had no eye witnesses of Drewes' death and all evidence submitted was circumstantial.

French Surprised at Construction, Report Says

PARIS.—Publishing pictures of America's new dreadnoughts the illustration severely criticizes the construction of these ships. It firstly attacks their enormous length and breadth and their armaments. But what it most severely takes objection to is the central tower on these ships.

"On all their ships, the Americans have kept those metallic trellis work masts which characterize them and which with their towers, casemates, kiosks, foot bridges and funnels for a central castle offering a big target to enemy fire. The development of superstructures a danger which is not justified either on account of the necessity of long-distance observation or of the advantages of grouping the steering gear of the ship and the control of the guns. The lessons of the late war and those of the Russo-Japanese war showed that a single shell falling squarely in this mass of steel can cause a veritable catastrophe. The conjunction of the funnels on the cruisers of the Italian type is a novelty, albeit in contradiction with the lessons of naval warfare which have demonstrated that the fall of a funnel sends the smoke back into the interior of the ship and forces the men to abandon their posts. An aeroplane bomb or a shell falling squarely on these conjoined funnels would be even more disastrous, for the natural draft would be suppressed immediately."

We are surprised to see America continue to build ships of a type condemned by the war. Admiral Sir Percy Scott in a recent speech in London stated that the submarine had killed the cruiser, and in this he was right. If there remains any doubt about this let us remember that at the beginning of the Peace Conference the United States and Great Britain attempted to forbid the use of submarines in future naval battles. That was the only way of saving the cruiser."

BLACK BEAR STOPS SERVICES IN CHURCH

PIEDMONT, Va.—The trap ring and slaying of a black bear weighing 245 pounds broke up a service in a church nearby at Henry, on the Western Maryland Railroad, south of this place.

The bear had been carrying off pigs, calves and sheep and Arnold Stahl set a trap. En route to the church with friends, Stahl stopped to look at the trap and found a bear standing on it. The animal was a whopper. Revolver shots only infuriated him, and he became frenzied and would probably have attacked the party had not a rifle been produced. Several well directed shots ended the bear.

In the meantime, several hundred persons who had assembled for the church service, were attracted to the scene.

TRIAL OF M'GANNON AGAIN POSTPONED

CLEVELAND.—The second trial of William H. McGannon, chief justice of the municipal court, for second degree murder of Harold C. Kazy, scheduled to open on January 1, today was postponed until Monday, February 7, on request of Edward C. Stanton, county prosecutor.

ZELLER OPENS GOOD WELL IN THE ELIDA OIL FIELD

Henry A. Zeller, 124 S. Jameson-ave., drilled in the Orvin Crider farm, four miles east of Lima, in American P. Friday, what gives promise of making 50 to 60 barrels per day oil well. The well, in developed territory, is to be shot Saturday.

Zeller recently purchased the interest of LeRoy Crider in 203 acres of leases they held in Perry-tp and expects to drill there in the near future.

FAMOUS OLD LANDMARK IS MOVED IN BOSTON

BOSTON.—A famous old landmark of Boston, the Charles Street M. E. Church, built in 1807, is now being moved to a new site. The church was built in 1807, dedicated August 5, 1807, "as a separate church of Christ, by the name of the Third Baptist Church of Boston." The structure is noted for its architecture of the Bulfinch period. The church was incorporated in 1839. Since 1877 the building has been owned by the First African Methodist Church. The church was built at a cost of $27,000. Cost of moving is $40,000, of which the city will pay $30,000 and the parish $10,000.

REV. STILES WILL LEAVE LIMA

Accepts Call to Middletown Baptist Church

Announcement of the intention of the Rev. Franklin A. Stiles, pastor of the First Baptist church, to resign to become effective March 1, was made to the advisory board of the church at its meeting Thursday night.

Mr. Stiles will go to the First Baptist church of Middletown, where he has been called. He said Friday that the advisory board had approved his announcement of intention of resigning and that the matter would go to the congregation at an early date.

The church to which Mr. Stiles goes is one of the most important of the Baptist denomination. It has a congregation approximately twice the size of the church of which he has been pastor here and is old in tradition.

Mr. Stiles is the oldest Protestant minister in point of service in Lima and has a record of nearly ten years in this community. He has been active in child welfare work and has been president of the Child Welfare Association ever since he came to Lima. He also has taken an active part in the development of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

His church has been built up to twice its size when he came, now having a congregation of about 100.

SHAPPEL CASE AGAIN RAILROADS IS S

While waiting for lunch Charles Shappel, owner of line filling station two miles from Lima on the West-ast line, tied his case with the D. & W. Pennsylvania railroad; H. & D., and the Ohio which was being heard in pleas court.

He was suing for damage of gasoline while enroute to tank car.

The jury was dismissed court reconvened after two hours.

From Three Thousand to Twenty Thousand In a Month

On December 14, 1920 The Lima Sheet Metal Products Company received an order for 3000 Ford Battery Boxes. We mentioned at that time that it was not the size of the Order, but future prospects we desired to emphasize.

In a month, twelve states are being organized for the sale of this box, ORDERS FOR OVER TWENTY THOUSAND BOXES HAVE BEEN RECEIVED, and shipments are going forward from the hundred to five hundred boxes a day, and the surface has not been scratched yet.

The new plant for this company will be started just as soon weather conditions permit. If you want to share in the remarkable growth that this company is enjoying, do not delay too long.

COURTS' LENIENCY DENOUNCED

Light Sentences Attacked at Ohio Bar Convention

TOLEDO — (By Associated Press) — The meeting of the Ohio State Bar Association here today was featured by an address by the president, Daniel W. Iddings, of Dayton, who denounced undue leniency for criminals and described efforts to pass blue laws.

Five hundred Ohio lawyers heard Mr. Iddings criticize courts that impose light sentences on bandits. He said persons participating in the present crime wave should get the heaviest penalties allowed by law and that pardons and paroles should be greatly restricted.

Mr. Iddings said the country already had trouble enough in getting adjusted to the eighteenth and nineteenth amendments, and that "exaggerated blue laws" were to be denounced.

Alexander Smith, Toledo attorney, made an address of welcome during the morning. At noon, Ohio judges attended a luncheon. Women delegates are to be guests at a tea at five o'clock.

Among speakers the first day were George Gordon Battle of New York, Hon. John W. Warrington of the United States circuit court of appeals, Hon. C. T. Marshall, Ohio chief justice and Hon. John M. Killits, United States judge in Toledo.

REQUEST FOR MONUMENT FOR LETTER CARRIER

CONCORD, N. H. — State officials are puzzled over the question whether permission will be given for the erection of a monument to Fred Sargent, who for years was a letter carrier in the Capitol Building.

This question will be decided by Governor-elect Brown and his council. The monument issue came about thru a strange bequest in the will of the late Mrs. A. Lizzie Sargent, of Bow, who left money to provide a monument in the State House to her husband, who died several years ago.

MOONLIGHT DANCE TABOO; 'MOVIE BALL' INSTEAD

BOSTON.—Now comes the movie ball!

South Shore dancers who were deprived of their "moonlight dances" by the solons up on Beacon Hill are enjoying a quiet chuckle at the expense of the legislators. Little they care for the old-fashioned "moonlight glides" which the lawmakers declared were taboo.

Movie balls are the latest in the Weymouth and South Shore towns. The lights in the hall are dimmed, the latest "Wild West" comedy or love film thrown on the screen and the couples glide over the floor to the tune of a jazz orchestra.

Dancers and dance owners, who have been considerably worried for the past few months over the moonlight dance law, declare that the latest fad is a winner. Even dad and mother are persuaded to come down to the hall and view the pictures from the balcony. They are able to keep one eye on daughter Mary, who is dancing with her best fellow.

Staid old Weymouth was shocked when they heard of the new dances. Movements were started in different sections of the town, asking that managers be compelled to stop the performances. The younger folks prevailed, as ever, and mother and father had to give in to them.

STENOGRAPHER'S SKIRTS SHOCKED DELEGATES

GENEVA — The League of Nations couldn't settle the disarmament problem, but at least it has ruled on the length of a woman's skirt.

Some of the older delegates at the recent session of the league assembly here complained that young French, English and Italian stenographers who tripped up and down stairs at league headquarters wore skirts entirely too short. The league secretariat thereupon instructed the girls that skirts must fall at least six inches below the knee.

HOSPITAL DRIVE TO BE DELAYED

Conditions Not Favorable Now, Institution Heads Feel

J. R. Rickoff was elected president of the Lima City hospital Thursday evening at a meeting held at the hospital to start working out plans for a new $500,000 to $1,000,000 City hospital.

Frank Baxter was chosen first vice president; Mrs. Elizabeth M. McDonel, second vice president; Basil H. Simpson, secretary and treasurer; Frank Baxter, Dr. G. R. Clayton and Harley N. Piper, executive committee.

President Rickoff appointed Judge Phil Crow, Frank Baxter, Mrs. Elizabeth McDonel, Ed Mayer and M. Hoteller to map out plans for a new hospital campaign and perfect preliminary arrangements. Various organizations have pledged their support to the project. The hospital board will meet hereafter on the last Thursday of each month. Meetings have been held only every four months.

Vice President Frank E. Baxter stated Friday that it is the consensus of opinion of the members of the hospital board that the feeling of the public toward the hospital is such that at the proper time, when a campaign is inaugurated, good response will be witnessed. "It may be some time before the work of securing funds for a new hospital is begun," Baxter said. "The board members feel that while awaiting better conditions generally, that much of the preliminary work can be disposed of. A campaign will not be actively started at this time."

PEPTO-MANGAN NATURE'S BEAUTIFIER

It is the Coloring Matter of Pure Blood That Makes a Good Complexion

Beauty is more than skin deep. No one can have a clear, delicate skin, glowing with health, if the blood is impure or lacking in the vitally necessary iron that gives the coloring matter to the "life fluid." Neglect of regular and necessary waste elimination, helps to render the blood impure and reduce its iron contents. The best cosmetic in the world is pure, healthy, iron-rich blood.

Doctors, realizing the importance of enriching and improving the blood, have for years prescribed Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the pleasant and proved blood builder and tonic.

Pepto-Mangan contains just the elements needed to change thin, watery blood to good, red blood. Pepto-Mangan builds rich, red blood, enabling it to carry strength and vigor to every part of the body.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan has become so well known, by reason of doctors recommending it, that you can get it in tablet or liquid form at any drug store. Instead of trying to cover up a poor complexion, get a bottle of Gude's Pepto-Mangan and note how soon you feel better, sleep better, work harder, play with more zest—and how your skin and complexion are improving.

Only make sure to get the genuine. It has "Gude's" on the package.—Adv.

the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company, no date has yet been fixed for the referendum vote by the unions. The cut, if agreed upon, will effect between 40,000 and 50,000 men in Atlantic coast yards, the majority being in the Philadelphia district.

JUDGES ARE "VAMP PROOF," BUT BABY STARE WINS JURIES OF MEN

Court Opinions Cited in Discussions of Question

GIRLS DON'T HAVE ADVANTAGE

Public Told to Watch Women Try Cases

(BY MARGERY KEX)

NEW YORK — Can a judge be vamped? When Dr. Katherine B. Davis, New York's former Commissioner of Correction, told Philadelphia the other day that a judge is but a mere bit of injudicious wax which melts before the warm gaze of a feminine offender a low moan was heard to come from the Liberty Bell. It did seem for a moment to mean the end of women's rights — rather, her privileges.

"I have seen many a pretty girl dressed in fine clothes escape with a light sentence or gain her freedom by smiling at the judge," Dr. Davis said, and added that the baby stare was efficacious in making crime lose its meaning as far as the court was concerned.

At which Independence Hall shuddered to its very foundation of freedom and several of the Judiciary of the City of Brotherly Love talked back.

Judge Raymond McNamee, of the Municipal Court, says that if even the Queen of Sheba ever comes to Philly to commit her crimes her "good morning, Judge," would have no more pull with him than if the greeting were passed by a sober Monmouth maid or a demure little quaker, garbed in gray.

WHAT NEW YORK JUDGES SAY

The question of the Shebaan Queen's future standing in a Philadelphia court having been defined, if somewhat loosely, we turn to what observations of women prisoners and dignitaries of New York Supreme Court Judges have culled from years of experience.

One of them, Justice John Ford, defends women and her wiles, yet makes it clear that the only complete judgment of a woman is that verdict which comes from members of her own sex.

"Who knows? Who can tell when a woman is employing her wiles. Eh? Well, another woman, perhaps."

One of the critics of Dr. Davis replies that he couldn't be vamped by the Queen of Sheba. I consider that an egotistical statement for any modern judge to make, because old Judge Solomon succumbed to the wiles of that lady, you know.

"I suppose there never was a man vet. from St. Anthony down, who was not influenced by women's beauty. He may be entirely unconscious of it, too."

"I have always advocated the presence of women on juries. Particularly in cases where there are women witnesses or where either or both parties to the suit are women."

ERLANGER FOR WOMEN JURORS

Like treatment to insure justice for women is recommended by Supreme Court Justice Mitchell L. Erlanger, who believes in the woman juror. He said:

"In my opinion no woman whether plaintiff or defendant, has ever succeeded by her arts or beauty in influencing any judge."

"Jurors have been influenced by sympathy in favor of women, but the records of our courts show that whenever such a result was reached and I'm now speaking of civil cases the verdict has been set aside on the theory that chivalry has not yet been engrained on the laws of our State."

"There is no separate justice for women."

They are treated exactly as the male sex is.

"If results can be brought about by such means as Dr. Davis suggests, the fault lies with the jury. The only remedy is to empanel a jury of women who will judge their sex strictly in accordance with the merits of the claims."

NO DOUBT ABOUT INFLUENCE

But to go back to the question of women's influence, especially as exercised in times of crisis, Justice Ford says:

"God, in his wisdom, gave to women the power to hoodwink, befuddle, begot and wheedle men. It has to do with the primitive relations of the sexes. In the old days woman had no other defense but her power to influence men."

"And no matter what new fields woman may invade that power over men will never diminish."

"Never was there a man who was not moved by feminine beauty. There is no harm in this power of women. If God gave women this power He also gave men the quality of responding to it. It is right and fair that women should be able to sway by this force. They have always had a harder life than men."

"It is not altogether beauty, either, it's a quality found in children of the tenements as well as in Fifth Avenue belles. It's femininity that appeals."

"Now as far as this quality getting a woman 'off' in court with a light sentence, or none at all, let me explain how this has come to be believed."

"If the evidence is closely balanced and it is difficult to make a decision, a woman is often apt to be dismissed where a man might be held by the law. These are practically guessing cases — most of our cases are that sort. The cases that are not closely balanced can be settled outside of a court."

Dr. Davis said that pretty girls with "fine clothes" were able to win a judge's favor. Judge Ford does not agree with her.

"It is not the clothes, not the coquetry of splendid dress. Women who attempt to bedazzle by their apparel nearly always overplay the part by making a garish appearance."

SIMPLE COURT DRESS

"In the notorious Thaw trial everyone was affected by the sight of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, the defendant's wife, who was simply sown in some dark dress with a plain white collar and a flower pinned to her waist. That was not the attraction of fine clothes, but an appeal by an effect of simplicity and femininity."

"Wasn't it a carefully careless effect — a premeditated simplicity?" I asked.

"I repeat," smiled Judge Ford, "Who knows?"

"Men should try and be on guard in such cases. I often have examined myself, after a session of that sort, where a woman was involved, to see if I was exactly just or was even slightly influenced."

Now Justice has always been represented as a large blindfolded lady holding lopsided scales. If woman is unfair to woman, as is sometimes believed to be the case, then perhaps fair defendants in litigation have done better to woo Lady Luck thru man's magnanimity than take a reckless chance by dealing directly with the lady whose eyes are covered.

"How does anyone know Justice is blind?"

Perhaps that eye sash is a bandage made necessary thru the ages by the wrath of a woman who got introduced to Justice thru her own sex.

In any case, women juries will find out what secrets hide under the bandage.

DR. WINNES TAKES WITNESS STAND

Accused Slayer of Teacher Testifies in Own Defense

HARLAN, Ky. — (By Associated Press) — The prosecution in the case of Dr. H. C. Winnes, charged with the murder of Miss Lura Parsons, Pine Mountain school teacher, closed at 10.30 o'clock this morning after calling Dr. Arthur Jenkins and Dr. Lawrence L. Gunn, local physicians, to testify as to the effect of narcotics and alcohol on the human system.

Testimony of the physicians was taken in an effort to substantiate the theory of the prosecution that Dr. Winnes was under the influence of drugs or was drunk on the day Miss Parsons was killed.

S. M. Foster, superintendent of the Pine Mountain school, also was put on the stand by the prosecution and he testified that he had ridden over the same road with another man who was riding the mule used by Dr. Winnes. The time required was two hours and 15 minutes.

It was testified that it was supposed to have required about four hours for Dr. Winnes to make the trip.

Walter Parsons, father of the murdered school teacher, testified as to the time she left Berea.

A motion by the defense for peremptory instructions to acquit was overruled and Dr. Winnes took the stand in his own defense.

PRISON WILL OPERATE ITS OWN COAL MINE

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. — An $8,000 mine now nearing completion on the State's property just east of this city will eliminate a coal bill in excess of $10,000 annually and eventually will materially reduce the cost of the big West Virginia State Penitentiary on an entirely self-supporting basis.

Announcement of this effect was made by Warden J. Z. Terrell, who is carrying out a number of other money-saving plans, including a strict program of conservation.

The new coal mine, which will be shaft operated, is now eight feet to a vein of fine coal which underlies the 165 acres of prison farms. As soon as motors are installed, probably within next 30 days, the mine will be operating.

Little or no expense will be attached to the State in working the mine, as prisoners will do the work.

Provision is made for 1,000 commissioned officers, or 1,000 more than are now in service.

The bill shows a reduction of about $84,000 as compared with appropriations for the current year.

ARMY SUPPLY BILL REPORTED TO HOUSE

WASHINGTON — With a reduction in war department estimates of $699,275,502.93, the army appropriation bill carrying a total of $337,222,612.62, was reported to the house today by the appropriations committee.

The appropriation is based on an army of 150,000 men exclusive of the Philippine scouts and the flying cadets. Provision is made for 1,000 commissioned officers, or 1,000 more than are now in service.

The bill shows a reduction of about $84,000 as compared with appropriations for the current year.

"SPIRIT KING" CONVICTED OF TRICKERY IN SEANCES

AKRON — Arthur Sebring, 28, known as the "spirit king," filed a motion for a new trial today, following his conviction here on the charge of using a trick device in his seances. Sebring came here from Canton three weeks ago.

His arrest followed a visit from detectives, who charged that Sebring used flashlight during the course of receiving spirit messages. Sebring testified his spirit messages came from an ancient Egyptian known to him as "Deleznaki."

Bed-Ridden Man Burns to Death in Chicago

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — A bed-ridden man was burned to death, five persons were injured, including two babies who were dropped from a third story window, and a dozen others were rescued early today when fire attacked a boarding house in the North Side residential quarter.

Albion Bryant, 28, nephew of the owner of the house, was too weak from illness to escape. Miss Katherine Beck, 35, jumped from a third story window and was severely hurt. The other victims were: Allen Mayer, his wife and two babies, 19 months and one month old. They appeared at a third story window, heavy smoke swirling around them and the parents holding the children at arm's length from the sill to give them air.

PREPARE REPORT ON DAIRY PROBE

Investigators Claim Neglect Shown at London Farm

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — The special committee named to investigate tuberculosis in cattle of the state-owned herd at the London prison farm was preparing today to make its report to the house early next week.

A reorganization of the department of agriculture is expected to be recommended as a result of the investigation. Representative Crabbe, who is directing the probe, said evidence collected would show neglect on the part of state officials in not segregating tubercular cattle from the well cattle at the prison farm.

It was reported today that Governor Davis may appoint an entire new board of agriculture. Officials in the department are appointed by the board and before any changes can be made it will be necessary to name an entire new board. The governor has it in his power to replace members of the board of agriculture at any time because their appointments by Governor Cox have never been confirmed.

Application for an order intended to help some of the hard-pressed creditors of the Ohio Electric Railway Co., was expected to be filed in the federal court at Toledo, Friday. Attorneys for the Western Ohio Railroad Co., which supplies the Ohio Electric with power, have asked Federal Judge Kilbitt if there is any way in which the receivers of the Ohio Electric and the lines that have been under lease by that company, might pay the power company, for current, amounting to approximately $30,000.

General manager F. D. Carpenter of the Western Ohio is absent from the city Friday and is expected to return to Toledo on Saturday. He is expected to take in the power was not obtainable.

FOOD DOLLAR RAPIDLY ADVANCES IN VALUE

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — Your dollar is getting to be worth more—especially your food dollar—according to official figures of the labor department.

The clothing dollar, the traveling dollar, amusement dollar and other dollars have been getting more valuable, too, but the food dollar leads the others with an advance of 25 per cent since June. The department figures show the food dollar is worth exactly 56 1/2 cents as compared with 1913. Turning it around, you pay now only $1.78 for the food which in 1913 cost $1. Along last June it took $2.19 to buy that amount of food. The food dollar then was worth only 45 7/8 cents compared with 1913.

Then there are different kinds of food dollars. The sirloin steak dollar is now approximately 64 cents compared with the 1913 sirloin steak dollar. In July, it was worth only 52 cents.

Iodine Gives Wonderful Relief From Stiffness, Pain or Inflammation!

Most of us know the value of Iodine as a "rub on" application for strains, sprains, lameness, soreness, pain or inflammation. It surely does bring relief—Quick! and certain—but it stains, often irritates and is very apt to blister, especially when the treatment calls for repeated applications. To overcome these disagreeable features of Iodine in its ordinary form—and make its use more general, has been a task which has taxed the minds of the best chemists for many years—and which, according to reports, has finally been solved by a well-known Syracuse Chemist, who has recently marketed an Iodine preparation in Ointment form which he calls Iodinated Iodine Compound. Iodinated Iodine, which can now be obtained from any good druggist in small inexpensive jars, has all the virtues of ordinary Iodine of Iodine, but does not stain or blister, and can be used on the most delicate skins without the slightest irritation—it also does not wash off and never loses its strength. Iodinated Iodine is a remedy for Muscular Rheumatism, Lame Back, Strains, Sprains, or Stiff and Swollen Muscles. It is guaranteed to bring prompt relief or money refunded. If any food druggist or Food Institute of Vorikamp can supply you with it—Ad.

JANITOR SERVICE BAD, CHARGED

School Officials Seek to Aid Board of Health

CIVIL SERVICE IS BLAMED

Airing of Unsanitary School Building Question

That the city school board intends to co-operate to the fullest extent with the board of health in remedying unsanitary conditions in school buildings, is evidenced by action of the school board Tuesday night when Guy Butler, clerk, was instructed to get in communication with the health officers.

A letter was dictated immediately to the health board, but it had not been signed by Butler in time to be presented to the meeting of the health board Thursday night.

Members of the health board took it that the school board ignored their communication which pointed out conditions claimed to exist, which was read at the school board meeting Tuesday night.

For that reason, school board members say, they were unjustly criticized.

CHARGE POOR SERVICE

Janitor service in most schools is very bad, they say. Janitors are appointed under civil service, and feel as though they are protected when it is pointed out to them that they are not doing their work suitably.

As an instance, he said that recently the board sought to remove one aged janitor whom the board charged with not doing his work properly. He presented his case to the civil service commission and the board was ordered not to dismiss him.

In reply to the health board's charges that janitors have more work than they can properly attend to, the school board feels that men could be employed at the same salary in some of the buildings who would do all the work expected of a janitor, one of the members said.

Three janitors in particular, the school board feels, are not doing their work as it should be done. These men were hired during the war, it is said, when it was difficult to get men to do janitor work.

As it is now, they say, suitable men could easily be employed since so many are out of employment.

The school board is expected to take immediate action in the matter, and according to information available Friday they will request the health officers to co-operate with them in pressing charges against unsuitable janitors before the civil service authorities in an effort to have their removal.

That other men may be employed who will do the work as the board thinks it should be done.

GET BETTER PAY NOW

It was pointed out Friday by school authorities that the pay of janitors has been increased in, according with that of teachers, and that besides a 15 per cent bonus has been offered them if their work is done properly, to the principals of the various buildings in the city. It is known by school officials that there are some janitors in schools who are doing their work in commendable shape and who are putting their consciences before civil service.

One incident was reported to the board of health in which a student in a south side school cleaned a lavatory. A report that such occurrences were often noted was made Friday morning by Dr. Felling, health commissioner. Members of the health board and sanitary officers reported that sanitary conditions were found in practically all school buildings, especially in the Lincoln building, where, it is said, odors from downstairs toilets make occupancy of the rooms almost unbearable.

JURORS CHOSEN
WILLIAMSON, W. Va.—Speeding up work of obtaining a jury in the Matewan battle trial cases, Judge R.

made week progress today that eleven tentative jurors were in the box at 1:30 p. m. A development of the morning session was the manner in which Judge Bailey sustained objections to either coal operators

D. Bailey and counsel for both sides or union miners being permitted to sit on the jury in all 55 men were examined, three more than the entire number questioned during yesterday's sitting.

DOC LICENSE CHEAPER THAN A FINE; BETTER GET BUSY AND PAY UP

Last call for dogs! Get a tag for Towser from County Auditor Phillips not later than Saturday.

It's the last day of grace. No more extension of time, officials say. If a dog is not tagged by Saturday, it's a fine or a pound of flesh, or both. That's the law.

Sheriff Charles Baxter is pretty busy, but he's going to have time with the assistance of his deputies to look up owners of dogs who haven't called on the county auditor with a daddy dollar, or three of 'em, as required.

The scout work for delinquent canine owners begins next Monday. Don't try hiding the dog; it won't work.

SHOT BY POLICEMAN

CINCINNATI—Caught in a saloon here early today, Frank Berning, a fireman on the Big Four railroad, tried to escape from Patrolman Porrendick and was twice shot, dying from his wounds later. The patrolman said Berning was looting the saloon of whisky when arrested.

HERE'S HOT STUFF! THE LIVE NEWS OF THE DAY ILLUSTRATED

SUPERSTITIOUS? MANY FOLKS ARE

Ye, Gods!

Bad luck is going to play the "cat" with me now. Did you see that terrible black cat across my path?

Did you ever hear this phrase before? Sure you have, and isn't it peculiar how many brainy people in this world are superstitious?

Not always is it the person whose mental qualifications are somewhat limited who believes in all sorts of mystical happenings, and is haunted by fear when certain instances happen; business men, professional persons and those from all walks of life are more or less superstitious.

Nothing worse than three men (for women) lighting their cigarettes from the same match, could happen.

Horror!

Flop went the mirror and it broke into thousands of bits. Now we're going to have bad luck for seven long years.

And don't you know that some people won't even accept a $2 bill. Many say it is bad luck, and as long as they have such a bill in their jeans they won't have anymore checks.

Even on our police force we have some cops who are extremely superstitious. Some of them won't even kill a dog, because they think it is bad luck.

Oh! and that badger "number 12." How some officers fear that number hanging on their noble breasts. Many have declared themselves as opposed to wearing the number, but at present a member of the force is wearing it and says he never had better luck in his life.

Abe Vinger, turnkey at police headquarters, is about the most superstitious person in the world.

Abe hustles to the nearest store every time he receives a $2 bill and has it changed.

"I've never had any use for a $2 bill," Abe says.

Besides, the turnkey won't kill a dog nor will he walk under a step ladder.

"It's all bad luck," he says.

Judge Jackson says he is not superstitious, and never was.

During the war, the Judge was a full fledged Captain.

And don't you know," he says, "in the army a fellow would knock another person down if they saw he was fighting his cigarette off a match previously used by two other parties."

"They would break rank and create a general melee over such an incident."

"It meant death in the army," says Joe Reed, plainclothesman, says it's all hush.

"I'm not superstitious and never was nor ever will be," the officer says.

But Chief of Police Roush is one person in the world who is as superstitious as they make 'em.

Thursday the physician said the chief could leave the hospital.

Then he counted up the days, and it was the thirteenth day he had been there.

"No," he said, "I'm staying here until tomorrow." And he stayed!

Women of All Ages

Toledo, Ohio.—There is no better medicine made than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women of all ages. I gave it to my daughters when they were developing into womanhood and it brought them through that critical period in robust health, and for a number of years Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was my special tonic and nerve.

I came through the critical time of life in excellent condition because I took 'Favorite Prescription,' and I most heartily recommend it.—MRS. ELIZABETH RUSSELL, 1834 Fernwood Ave.

Aviator Too Busy to Kiss on Honeymoon

LONDON—A young wife told a widowed magistrate her husband refused to kiss her because she would not sign the following agreement: "Not to enter her neighbors' homes; not to speak to anyone on the street, not to see her mother before the latter is dead."

CHICAGO—William McNulty made some home brew. His wife told the police they found McNulty in his car, stretched out on the floor, apparently still. "Did you eat your wife after you had taken a nip?" the police asked. "Beat it or nothing," said William. I kissed her.

HAMILTON Ont.—Capt. Hamilton of Camp Borden started out with his bride in an airplane, for Nashville, Tenn. He ran out of gas. He tied up the tank then propeller broke. Had it fixed. Then cold wave came. Waiting for warm spell.

Didn't even have time to kiss on honeymoon.

NEW YORK—Mrs. Jacob Roth showed a judge a bump. "It's part of Jacob's nightly program to bean me on the head," she said. And the judge suggested that Roth swear that he would kiss his wife every day and never take another drink. Roth swore, both ways.

GREENWICH, Conn.—Justice in this vicinity have always kissed the bride. When Alice J. O'Neill was elected justice, folks wondered what would happen to her first bridegroom. The victim, W. Ogden of Brookland, Md., fooled 'em all by grabbing the justice's hand and kissing it.

CHICAGO—Sixty kisses at a cost of $3,500. That was the price, to Aurelius C. Turpin to plant 60 smacks on the lips of pretty Miss Virginia Foster, all within an hour's time. Both are reported to be recovering after the trying ordeal.

LONDON—A little girl startled the gate porter at Greenwich Seaman's hospital by demanding the house surgeon attend her canary, whose leg was broken. The medic obeyed the summons and set the broken limb in matchstick splints. "Can't pay you, but I'll kiss you," said the girl.

When a Doctor Sneezes

Doctors, out in all kinds of weather, suffer frequently from colds yet seldom seriously.

There's a good reason. Doctors realize the danger and upon appearance of the first symptoms of cold begin taking medicine to check its progress.

Follow the doctor's example and you too will escape the serious consequences of neglect. Take Lightning Laxative Quinine Tablets as soon as you feel a cold coming on. They stop a cold right off; ward off fever, cleanse intestines; never gripe or sicken. Druggists guarantee them—only 50c a box.

ALL THE MONEY YOU HAVE CANNOT BUY TWO WORDS IN THESE COLUMNS

OPEN LETTERS

To Complain
YOU have postponed and delayed negotiations with one company until it now is in the hands of receivers. You are dealing with another concern which is little better off financially than the one which hit the rocks a few days ago.

Has it ever occurred to you that I would be much to the good when these crashes come if I had binding contracts? I am depending on you to give them to me and your dilatory tactics are getting on my nerves. Most everyone who reads the signs of the times foresaw what was to happen to the utility which went under this week. If you didn't it was your own fault and you should have been prepared.

LIMA BEANE

To Unemployed
FRIENDS: While there are fewer of you here than in most cities, those of you who are temporarily out of work could benefit yourselves by looking up information concerning your trade at the public library and doing other reading. Try it.

LIMA BEANE

To Street Car Conductors
BOYS: The company for which you are working sells nine tickets for 50 cents or charges a fare of seven cents. Most persons who patronize street cars buy tickets because it is cheaper.

I have noticed that on many occasions you tell patrons you are out of tickets and these persons are forced to pay cash fares, which costs them more. I saw one of you tell five persons that you were out of tickets this week, altho the car had just left the transfer where tickets could have been had by conductors. You may feel that this is a small matter, but it is not. You are employed to give service to the public and if you make it impossible for the public to take advantage of a cheaper fare you are not giving that for which you are hired. Wake up!

LIMA BEANE

To Secretary of War Baker
DEAR NEWT: The United States must have been prepared to fight a 100-year war, judging from the amount of goods still on sale in "army stores".

LIMA BEANE

To Walter Perry, Fight Promoter
DEAR WALT: I saw your last boxing exhibition a few nights ago and except for one or two things was highly pleased. One thing I noticed especially was the appearance of your ring. It looked as if it had been in use for the last century without repairs. I am talking about the part above the floor.

The posts are decorated with what appear to have been American flags or bunting in the national colors, sadly discolored. If you must use the Stars and Stripes, Walt, or decorations, please get some new ones.

LIMA BEANE

To Governor Davis
DEAR HARRY: I'm patiently waiting for you to start that era of economy you promised when you took office.

LIMA BEANE

To Service Director McClain
DEAR MAC: Ohio is called the Buckeye state. Why not plant a few buckeye trees while you are improving things? Many children in Lima have never seen a buckeye tree.

LIMA BEANE

To Walter W. Craig
To A. J. Gray
To John W. Thompson

DEAR WALT, ANDY AND JOHN: Since Judge Bailey has taken under advisement the mass of evidence you and each of you have afforded him in the scrap you have been staging to determine finally and officially who is and likewise who isn't entitled to certificates of election for four year terms, as county commissioner. I hope that you'll stop mauling the atmosphere until the jurist who has the case gets the affair untangled.

Walt drew the short straw when the certificates were passed around and he's now trying to make a trade with one or the other of you, Andy and John. Why not adopt Walt's suggestion of conducting a recount of all the votes cast in the county for commissioner? It might show that Jim Mackenzie was elected, on the Democratic ticket, after all. If the court should order a recount, don't oppose it. Be game.

Really, this little contest you boys are waging is growing remarkably interesting.

To Marion Officials

DEAR FRIENDS: My mayor and postmaster inform me that you paid my city a visit Thursday, for the purpose of inspecting hospitals here, to assemble ideas to be incorporated in plans for an extension to your hospital in Hardingtown.

I am mighty proud of my St. Rita's hospital and altho my City hospital is the older institution and not at this time altogether up to date, I am sure that it also possesses many features that will afford you valuable suggestions.

Hope you enjoyed your visit here and that my mayor and postmaster treated you as visitors should be treated. I know they did. Come again.

To Lima Moose Lodge

DEAR LODGEMEN: You have a right to be and probably are, proud of the Students' band from Mooseheart, Ill., which gave concerts in my city Thursday.

They are a fine looking body of young men and boys, accomplished musicians and the large number of my people who heard the concerts are warm in their praise of the musical talent of the visitors from the home your lodge has provided for the orphaned children of your members, where they obtain an education and acquire a vocation.

I was pleased to have the Student band here and the knowledge that one of the musicians is a Lima boy, maintained at the home by your lodge, is particularly pleasing.

To City Auditor Rupert

MY DEAR DAVE: You are entitled to the sobriquet of "Watchdog of the Treasury" in my city. I note that you did not fail to remember that since the Ohio Electric has passed into the hands of a receiver that it is necessary for the city to file, with the receiver any claims that may be held against the company, within a specified time.

I recall that in 1902 I lost something like $7,000 when the D. T. & I. passed under the control of a receiver, because somebody failed to remember that the railroad company was in my debt to that extent. The claim was not filed until it was too late.

Thanks, Dave, for your diligence in your duty.

OLD SCISSORS SAYS:
The world is growing better. Folks now talk about the bargains they get, rather than boasting about the big price they paid for this or that.

The earth has had 41 quakes in the last twelve months, not counting the one that struck the White House in November.

We note that two women were taken to the hospital this week suffering from exposure. Judging by the styles during the past few years, we had gained the impression that the members of that well-known sex had got miles beyond any such danger.

SONG OF YOUTH

On the wastes where the weary ones toil,
And the pathway is rugged and long,
We shall glean o'er the pain-burdened soil,
And shall harvest a song.

And where never a rose used to bloom,
For many a wearisome mile,
May the star shell of hope, in the gloom,
Lift the light of a smile.

Until up from the dark of defeat
We have climbed the laborious way,
And made bitter, thru fancy turn sweet,
And changed night into day.

TO W. G. H.

Dear Warren:
If you want to make a big hit.
Right at the start-off
Or your administration,
Take a quiet little tip
From a guy who isn't
After any job or anything.
If you want to be sainted
By a hard-headed people.
The first thing you do,
When you get into office,
Take a large, heavy bludgeon
And soak the Income Tax thing
Right square on the bean
And knock it out forever.
It's a burden on the rich.
It's a burden on the poor.
And outside of that
It's a darned nuisance.
There are enough hold-ups
Without the government
Remaining in that business.
Never mind the cabinet,
The ambassadors or
The league of nations.
Give us poor ginks a chance
To save a little something
For our old age.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

A LETTER FROM A GROCER

A correspondent—a grocer, 'tis said—seems much impressed by almanacs he's read. "I like Dr. Brady and his talks," says he, "but he's cracked on catching cold, you can take it from me! There may be germs that will cause disease, but I'll swear it's drafts that make me sneeze. By our health department we're repeatedly told to be careful about exposure so we won't catch cold. If germs are the devils that really lay us low, why should the authorities stress exposure so? No, you can't tell me there's no such thing as catching cold. I've had some experience and I'm much too old."

there, for all unbeknownst he is giving off a spray of salivary droplets which will readily convey germs that bring bronchitis, coryza, and worse—yes, sometimes they bring the ambulance and other times the hearse. As long as this grocer has almanac ideas in his head, the health authorities all might just as well be dead!

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is a lucky day.
It is prophesied that disturbed business conditions will reach a harmonious settlement.
Those seeking employment will find this a beneficial rule of the stars, if they are efficient in the lines along which they wish to work.
Schools and colleges may expect increased prosperity.
Persons whose birthday this is, should be careful of fire and thieves during the coming year. Their activities in business will be successful.
Children born today will probably be gifted, but impractical.

ITCHING ECZEMA FOR 4 YEARS

On Limbs in Pimples, Burned and Could Not Rest. Cuticura Healed.

"I suffered for about four years with eczema on my limbs, from my knees down. At first they were very small pimples, and after a while the skin would begin to swell and get thick and crack open. My clothing rubbed the eruption, causing much itching and burning, and I could not rest at all.
"I began to use Cuticura and got relief, and when I had used two boxes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed."

Are you Saving the GOLMAR NUT BUTTER Cartons?

It is not too late to start using Golmar and get a pound free.

Buy two or three pounds of Golmar this week for next week's use. Buy two or three pounds before the end of next week for the following week. Turn back the five empty cartons to the grocer or butcher and he will give you a pound of Golmar free.

Even though you do not use three pounds of butter a week, you need not hesitate to lay in a little extra Golmar. It stays fresh longer even than the finest creamery. Furthermore, with Golmar in the house you will not need any other kind of butter.

You will not need creamery butter for table use, even though you have guests, because Golmar is exactly the same as creamery butter in flavor, richness, and texture. No one can tell the difference.

And of course, since Golmar is beyond criticism for table use, you know that nothing can be better for anything requiring butter. Golmar takes the place of all butters, because it is the equal of the finest, freshest creamery.

Start using Golmar at once and get a pound free for 5 empty cartons. This offer good until February 12.

Every pound of Golmar is sold on a money-back guarantee. It must please you or the price is refunded.

CHARACTER READ IN BREATHING

French Doctor Studies It By Means of X-Ray

PARIS—"Show me how you breathe and I will tell you what you are," is a new theory advanced by Doctor Maingot, of the French Academy of Medicine, who says he can tell a person's character by X-raying his or her respiratory organs. Dr. Maingot states that handwriting often reveals a person's character, but points out that handwriting is taught and is therefore the fruit of one's education while breathing is one of the natural gifts of life.

In breathing, according to the French doctor, inspiration spells activity and expiration that of rest. He has submitted various patients to his X-rays and on the spot has been able to tell them their character and to tell them their faults. "You are timid," he said to a young man of twenty-two. "You are great and difficult in getting out of bed." To an older person he said: "You are sentimental and easily moved and yet you are capable of heroic actions." In both cases the patients realized the truth of these statements.

Dr. Maingot is attempting to introduce "Phrenoscopia" at the courts, and asserts it would be useful in revealing the character of criminals and witnesses.

BIDS FOR CHILDREN'S HOME IMPROVEMENTS

Bids for improvements at the Allen-co Children's home were received and opened by county commissioners at noon Thursday. Award will be made later, according to Glen I. Wallace, clerk.

Included are bids for installation of the new heating plant. Only the fact that the winter thus far has been an open one, saved the children who are inmates there, much suffering, David Higby, superintendent, says.

MANY GIRLS WORK WAY THRU WELLESLEY

WELLESLEY, Mass.—Having all the necessary money is no longer necessary for the girl who would go to college. Such parental jobs as tending furnaces may still be for men only but many girls now wait on table, do part time clerical work for the college office, and in many other ways are succeeding in earning all or nearly all of their college expenses. Of the 1,552 girls at Wellesley College, approximately one-fifth are earning either all or part of their way thru. Sixty girls get help from endowed scholarships.

ODD COSTUME OF NAVY AND GRAY

By ELOISE.

This odd, little frock shows many of the newest and most popular features of the spring dresses. Spring styles favor taffeta, either by itself or in combination with crepes or other materials. They also show a predominance of gray and a very happy combination of gray and blue. Short skirts and short sleeves are always seen and times of some kind are more of the fashion variety is the newest trimming. In looking over this array of new spring features it can really be seen that the little frock pictured is practically the embodiment of them all.

It is a fluffy little model made of gray crepe de chine with an over-bustle and tunic of navy blue taffeta. The tunic is a ruffled apron affair and the little collar of the fish-net lace edging the V-neck. Note the pretty cuff effect of taffeta on the little sleeves and the little taffeta flower at the waistline. Such a frock is just the thing for the spring tea dances and the other informal afternoon affairs which will soon be taking their place on the social calendar.

The New, Big Vital Drama of the Day Louise Glaum In "Love Madness"—It's Great

Coming to the Lyric theater Sunday. Rest well assured that it's better than "Sex"—great in the immensity of its human interest and wealth of dramatic action.

On Sunday there comes to the Lyric a picture which is positively without a criticism or flaw—a picture that for actual wealth of vital human interest, tragic moments, and superb acting will compare with the very highest achievements of the screen.

What woman could contemplate with otherwise than deepest horror the idea of donning the robes of the Scarlet Woman? In order to help and save the man she loved. Yet this is the theme, and the high point in this wonderful character, is superbly enacted by Louise Glaum in this production. He had sinned and

SUSIE SMART SAYS

Dear Miss Smart: I AM 15 years old. I have been going to a young man for a year and now we are secretly engaged. We love each other very much, but we are in a problem which cannot be solved in a day or so. SUSIE SMART

Y you love the young man, I would advise you to look into his religion. Go to his church and receive all the information you can concerning his church, its teachings, etc. If, then, after you are thoroughly acquainted with the religion and find that it is something which appeals to you, that you are willing to devote your life to it, it would be proper that you join the church and marry this young man.

On the other hand a number of people believe that religion should be a greater force in life than love. A person should not forsake his her church unless he finds he more deeply believes in the creed or teachings of another church.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a young man of 18 and very lonely. I would like to have a friend whom I could go with and see once in a while. When I go home I sit up for hours and wonder why no one likes me. I have boy friends but no girl friends. Tell "Lonely" the girl I wrote to see her when she is crying.

You really aren't half so lonely as you think you are. Invite some nice girl to the movies, a party, dance or whatever it may be. Be pleasant, polite and conduct yourself and do things which you know would please her. If you just learn the little lesson of meeting every one half way you will soon see that this isn't such a bad old world after all. I don't imagine "Lonely" would care to have you see her when she is crying. Most people don't look so handsome when they are in that state.

Dear Miss Smart: If a person has a cowlick, what can they do to make their hair lie down if they want bangs. (2) If a boy whom you like goes away to work in another place and you wish to carry on a correspondence with him, who should write first? (3) Where could I get a book on etiquette. (4) I am a girl of 15 and am five feet, one inch tall. How much should I weigh? (5) My skin is rather oily. What could I use to make it soft? (6) Is there anything that will make your lips red without painting them? (7) If a person's fingers are crooked what could they do to make them straight? (8) If they are blunt at the ends, what could they do to improve their looks and make them taper at the ends?

DREAMY EYES
(1) Use some hand lotion. (2) The boy. (3) At any book store or from anyone who carries books. (4) Between 95 and 105 pounds. (5) Massage it well with cold cream every night before retiring. (6) Nothing that I know of. However if you receive good exercise and plenty of good wholesome food your lips should be red. (7) Nothing that I know of. (8) Nothing can be done to change the shape of the fingers that I know of. Keep your nails manicured well, your hands soft and white and the bluntness of your fingertips will not be so noticeable.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a young girl 19 and I am so unhappy. I just lost my friend not long ago and I don't care for any other company. What could I do to forget the loss altogether? I'm not satisfied at home and nothing seems to please me. I have had lots of chances to go with nice young men but I don't want any of them. What can I do to win back this young man?

BOBBY
You are going to have quite a proposition before you—trying to forget the boys altogether and at the same time win back this other young man. Try to win back the young man first and then if you are successful in this you might resort to your first plan. Just a little more of the "same old advice"—be friendly to the young man and perhaps he will see that you still care for him and "will come back to you."

What do you want? If it is a used car or a phonograph our Want Ads will find what you are looking for.

THE MIDDLE TEMPLE MURDER

By J. S. FLETCHER

"We'll go straight there," said Spargo. "Every minute's precious. But—can we get a mouthful of bread and cheese and a glass of ale first?"

"Good idea! We'll call in at the Moor Cock. Now then, while we're on this firm road, step it out lively!"

The Moor Cock was almost deserted at that hour; there were scattered about in it the two travelers turned in to its dimly lighted parlor. The landlord, bringing the desired refreshment, looked hard at Breton.

"Come our way again then, sir?" he remarked with a sudden grin of recognition.

"Ah, you remember me?" said Breton.

"I call in mind when you came here with two old gents last year," he replied the landlord. "I hear they're here again—Tom Summers was coming again—last night, this morning, and said he'd get 'em at the little cottage. Going to join 'em I reckon, sir?"

Breton kicked Spargo under the table.

"Yes, we're going to have a day or two with them," he answered. "Just to get a breath of your Moorland air."

"Well you'll have a roughish walk over there tonight, gentlemen," said the landlord. "There's going to be a storm. And it's a stiffish way to make out of this time o' night."

"Oh, we'll manage," said Breton, nonchalantly. "I know the way, and we're not afraid of a wet skin."

The landlord laughed, and sitting down on his long settle folded his arms and scratched his elbows.

"There was a gentleman—London here this afternoon, and asked the way to Fossdale, he observed. 'He'll be there long since—he'd have daylight for your party,' he asked where the old gentleman's little cottage was."

Again Spargo felt his skin kicked and made no sign.

"One of your friends, perhaps," answered Breton. "What was he like?"

The landlord ruminated. He was not good at description and was conscious of the fact.

"Well, a darskish, serious-faced gentleman," he said. "Stranger hereabouts, at all events. Wore a gray suit—something like your friends there. Yes he took some bread and cheese with him when he heard what a long way it was."

"Wise man," remarked Breton. He hastily finished his own bread and cheese, and drank off the rest of his pint of ale. "Come on," he said, "let's be stepping."

Outside, in the almost tangible darkness, Breton clutched Spargo's arm. "Who's the man?" he said. "Can you think Spargo?"

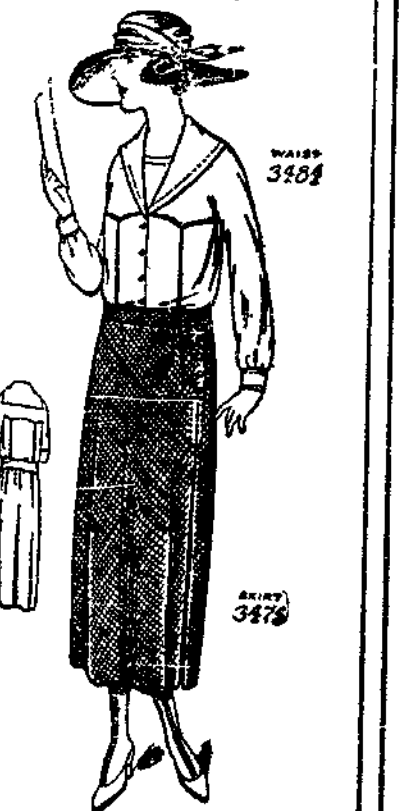

"Can't," answered Spargo, "I was trying to, while that chap was talking. But—it's somebody that's got in before me. Not Rathbury, anyhow—he's not serious-faced. Heavens, Breton, however are you going to find your way in this darkness?"

"You'll see presently. We follow the road a little. Then we turn up the fell side there. On top, if the night clears a bit, we ought to see Great Shunnor Fell and Lovely Seat—they're both well over 2000 feet, and they stand up well. We want to make for a point clear between them. But I warn you, Spargo, it's stiff going!"

"Go ahead!" said Spargo. "It's the first time in my life I ever did anything of this sort, but we're going on if it takes us all night. I couldn't sleep in any bed now that I've heard there's somebody ahead of us. Go first, old chap, and I'll follow."

Breton went steadily forward along the road. That was easy work, but when he turned off and began to thread his way up the fell-side by what was obviously no more than a sheep-track, Spargo's trouble began. It seemed to him that he was walking as in a nightmare; and all that he saw was magnified and heightened; the darkening sky above; the faint outline of the towering hills; the gaunt specters of fir and pine; the figure of Breton forging steadily and surely ahead. Now the ground was soft and spongy under his feet; now it was stony and rugged; more than once he caught an ankle in the wire-like heather and tripped, bruising his knees.

"And in the end he resigned himself to keeping his eye on Breton, outlived against the sky, and following doggedly in his footsteps."

"Was there no other way than this?" he asked, after a long interval of silence. "Do you mean to say those two—Elphick and Cardlestone—would take this way?"

"There is another way—down the valley, by Thwaites Bridge and Har-draws and miles around. This is a straight cut across country, and in daylight it's a delightful walk. But at night—Gad!—here's the rain, Spargo!"

"The rain came down as it does in that part of the world, with a suddenness that was as fierce as it was heavy. The whole of the gray night was blotted out; Spargo was only conscious that he stood in a vast solitude and was being gradually drowned. But Breton, whose sight was keener, and who had more knowledge of the situation, dragged his companion into the shelter of a group of rocks. He laughed a little as they huddled closely together."

"This is a different sort of thing to pursuing detective work in Fleet Street, Spargo," he said. "You would come on, you know."

"I'm going on if we go thru cata-racts and floods," answered Spargo. "I might have been induced to stop at the Moor Cock overnight if we hadn't heard of that chap in front. If he's after those two, he's somebody who knows something. What I can't make out is—who he can be."

"Nor I," said Breton. "I can't think of anybody who knows of this retreat. But—has it ever struck you, Spargo, that somebody besides yourself may have been investigating?"

"Possible," replied Spargo. "One never knows. I only wish we'd been a few hours earlier. For I wanted to have the first word with those two."

The rain ceased as suddenly as it had come. Just as suddenly the heavens cleared. And going forward to the top of the ridge which they were then crossing, Breton pointed an arm to something shining far away below them.

"You see that?" he said. "That's a sheet of water lying between us and Catterdale. Leave that on our right hand, climb the fell beyond it, drop down into Catterdale, cross two more ranges of fell, and come down into Fossdale under Lovely Seat. There's a good two hours and a half still pull yet, Spargo. Think you can stick it?"

Spargo set his teeth. "Go on!" he said.

Up hill, down dale, now up to his ankles in peaty ground, now tearing his shins, now bruising his knees, Spargo, yearning for the London lights, the well-paved London streets, the convenient taxicab, even the humble omnibus, plodded forward after his guide. It seems to him that they walked for ages and had traversed a whole continent of mountains and valley when at last Breton, halting on the summit of a wind-swept ridge, laid one hand on his companion's shoulder and pointed downward with the other.

"There!" he said. "There!"

"Jate as it is, you see, they're up. And here's the roughest bit of the journey. It'll take me all my time to find the track across this moor. Spargo, so step carefully after me—there are bogs and holes hereabouts."

Another hour had gone by ere the two came to the cottage. Sometimes the guiding light had vanished, blotted out by intervening rises in the ground; always, when they saw it again, they were slowly drawing nearer to it. And now when they were at last close to it, Spargo realized that he found himself in one of the loneliest places he had ever been capable of imagining—so lonely and desolate a spot he had certainly never seen. In the dim light he could see a narrow, crawling stream, making its way down over rocks and stones from the high ground of Great Shunnor Fell. Opposite to the place at which they stood, on the edge of the moorland, a horseshoe-like formation of ground was backed by a ring of fir and pine; beneath this protecting fringe of trees stood a small building of gray stone, which looked as if it had been originally built by some shepherd as a pen for the moorland sheep. It was of no more than one story in height, but of some length; a considerable part of it was hidden by shrubs and brushwood. And from one uncurtained, blindless window the light of a lamp shone boldly into the fading darkness without.

HER OWN CAREER

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

THE FIRST KISS

At the sight of her tears, tears shed for him as he well knew, all the love and adoration in his big heart came to the fore, and Fedya watched Gwenda weeping with an intense joy within. Surely this girl cared for him even tho she, in all her virginal purity and coolness, might not realize it herself. Surely, but then, he knew that if this was so, a nature like Gwenda's would be all that even his passionate Russian heart could desire, if once aroused. She was the soul of a flame under all that cool exterior of hers, this girl that he loved so. This, he knew, instinctively.

She was stopping a little now, he would comfort her as best he could.

"I thank you for those tears, Gwenda, my," he murmured, as he once more offered his last handkerchief. "It makes me grateful to you for your dear sympathy. But, do not be sad. The picture is lost, to be sure. Time, precious time, thrown to the four winds, but I still have my right hand and you your beauty. Together we can do it all over again. That is, of course, if you will help me."

"Of course I shall, Fedya. Why shouldn't I?" answered Gwenda, quickly.

She stood up and came over to where he stood, and tilted her face a little, the better to see him, in the dim light, as she said, "Anything that will help you, Fedya, I am more than willing to do. We can begin to work again tomorrow, if you like."

A tear still trembled in the corner of her dark eyes, and impulsively, as he felt her vivid face so close to his, Fedya bent over and touched it ever so gently with his lips.

Gwenda smiled up sweetly at him as he did so, for she was very sure within herself that this strong Russian would always prove trustworthy. He kissed her tears away, because those tears had been shed in his cause, and he was sentimental. That was all. And she appreciated it.

Fedya remained very silent, looking down at her intensely. In his heart he was wondering if his snow-maiden would melt, were he to once more kiss her eyelids ever so lightly? Of course he would not try this. It was against all the rules of the game, but wonder, he might—and did.

"Good heavens, Fedya, come, I must go home. It is nearly four o'clock. Fern will be home and worried to death at my absence." So they walked down to the studio, and Gwenda, filled with mis-giving, ran up the stairs, only to find that Fern had not as yet returned and that the light had been burning in the studio ever since they left. What careless girls they really were!

ENGINE WRECKED AT LIGHT PLANT

Chief Engineer Dill Has a Narrow Escape

SMASHUP AT WAPAKONETA

Two Fires in One Day—Other News of Wapak

WAPAKONETA (Special)—That William Dill, chief engineer at the electric light and power and water works plant here is in the land of the living is due to a lucky impulse that impelled him to move away from a position directly in front of the cylinder head of the smaller of the two steam engines that supply power. In the plant, a moment before the piston rod tore loose from the crosshead about 5:20 Thursday evening, partially wrecking the engine.

The cylinder head was broken out and hurled with terrific force a distance of 25 feet, crashing against a brick wall. Part of the city wall of necessity be in darkness a portion of each night until the damage is repaired. It will require about two weeks.

The accident occurred when the threads were stripped off the piston rod where it connects with the crosshead. The damage will cost up something like $200, it is believed.

According to financial statements filed by two Auglaize co farmers co-operative grain elevators this week with the county recorder, they lost money during 1920. Assets of the St. Johns Co-operative Co., are given at $34,304.53 and liabilities at $43,000. The Eastern Auglaize County Co., comprising elevators in Waynesfield and New Hampshire, have assets of $122,590.39 and liabilities of about the same.

Financial statements of other co-operative companies are expected to be filed soon. There are six of the companies in this county, at Minster, Buckland, Unionville, Wapakoneta, St. Johns and the combined elevator of Waynesfield and New Hampshire.

Because of a rapidly accumulating mass of material for disposal, the January term of the Auglaizeco Grand Jury may be recalled. There are eight cases on the docket. Jury was dismissed on January 3, for lack of work to be done, but is subject to call of Prosecutor Timmermeister.

Thieves entered the building of Jacob Kaur here and took seven muskrats and one skunk pett. They have not been apprehended.

At the annual meeting of the Auglaize County Bankers' Association held at Wapakoneta, Wapakoneta, was elected chairman; O. E. Duman, St. Marys, vice-chairman; and W. A. Kibbel, Wapakoneta, secretary-treasurer. Bankers were present from Minster, New Bremen, St. Marys, Waynesfield and Wapakoneta at the meeting, held here.

Miss Beatrice Greer of Willard, Ohio, purchased the Pratt Millinery store here and will conduct it in the future.

It is the belief of Ed May, deputy sheriff, that so many hoboes were sent to the penitentiary when the "work or fight" order was in effect that their numbers have been thinned out, thus accounting for their present scarcity. None have been around here for a long time.

Two fires were fought by the local fire department here Thursday morning and afternoon. One was at home of Edmund Brown, South Perry-st., and the other at home of John Wentz, Cass-st. Both were small roof blazes.

The Ohio Seed Co., is to be re-organized after its affairs now in the hands of a receiver, are adjusted. Stockholders held a meeting and subscribed $5,000 to put it back on its feet. In the future only garden and field seeds will be handled, stock feeds and other side lines to be discontinued.

Nothing has been learned of Charles Perry, charged with non-support, who escaped from Sheriff Bob Ewing Monday in New Hampshire.

Mrs. Joseph Hasegauer, this city, underwent a serious operation at the St. Rita's hospital in Lima Thursday.

A motion was filed in Common Pleas Court by Roma McChes, St. Marys theater manager, against J. E. Devine an error. Motion was taken under advisement. Case relates to possession of Grand opera house in St. Marys.

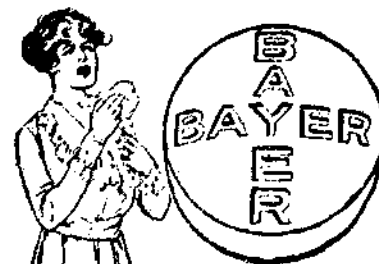

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Evans, residing near here, left Friday for St. Paris, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Evans' half sister, Mrs. Charles Belsford, 75, Saturday. Mrs. Belsford died at Port Orange, Florida.

Retraction and Apology To The Buying Public:

On various dates subsequent to December 27th, 1920, there appeared in newspapers located in cities where the Newark Shoe Stores Co., does business, advertisements announcing fire sales based upon fires which occurred in Wilmington, Delaware, and Baltimore, Maryland.

The facts upon which this copy was based were not called to the attention of the undersigned until Thursday, January 13th, 1921, when the matter was called to my attention by the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

The biggest asset of the Newark Shoe Stores Co., is the confidence of the buying public which it has gained and held through the years, and under no circumstances will we knowingly permit that confidence to be destroyed or in any respect impaired. It has been our practice to deal fairly with the public, and we propose that that practice shall continue.

While it is true that fires occurred in both our Baltimore and Wilmington stores, neither the fires nor the size of the stocks involved would warrant this company in conducting fire sales in all of its stores, as the entire stock in these two stores, if distributed proportionately among all of our stores, would be entirely too insignificant to give any sale the title of a fire sale.

The buying public who purchased goods at these sales received Newark Quality at Newark Prices. Though we feel that perhaps the public has suffered no financial loss, nevertheless, in line with our policy of never deceiving the public or inducing them to buy on any catch phrase, we offer without restriction to refund the purchase price to any of our customers who are in any way dissatisfied with their purchase made at that sale.

The fire sales, have of course, been discontinued and we desire again to emphasize the fact that we think more of our reputation with the buying public than we do of money they leave on our counters.

We welcome any suggestion that would aid us in safeguarding the public who deal with us.

We believe in fair competition, in truthful advertising, and above all we believe in square dealing with our public.

We appreciate keenly the action of the Associated Advertising Clubs in bringing this matter to our attention as we will also appreciate the action of any individual anywhere at any time bringing to our attention anything which will aid and assist us in further protecting what, as I have said before, is our biggest asset—the confidence of the buying public, which in plain English means what the public thinks of us. We are very jealous of our reputation and will go to any extreme to protect it.

MORTON SAMUELS, President.

M. E. Pugh Sends Corn to Columbus Show

SPENCERVILLE — (Special) — Spencerville is in gala attire today for the second annual basketball tournament of north-western Ohio, in progress at the armory. All the schools of the city have been dismissed and the local pupils are parading the streets cheering for the home team. Odds seem to favor either the Spencerville, Gomer, Lima or St. Marys teams. The championship games for the beautiful cup will be played this evening. Hundreds of out-of-town people are present.

Miss Chas. Koller pleasantly entertained the members of the Modern Priscilla club at her home on E. Fourth-st. Thursday evening. Fifty hundred was enjoyed until a late hour after which the hostess served a three course dinner. Twenty members of the club were present.

Chas. J. Post, J. L. Cochran and John B. Polling, appointed by the executive, Mrs. Jacob Boyer, will appraise Saturday the estate of the late Jacob Boyer, according to the will the estate was left to the widow upon her death goes to the two sons, Richard K. and Columbus G. Boyer. The appraisement will amount to more than $15,000.

M. E. Pugh, Spencerville community farmer, has shipped to Columbus 150 pounds of corn, which will be entered at the state corn show at the State University this coming week. Mr. Pugh recognized as being one of the best corn raisers in the state, and has won many medals. His exhibit will be the best that he has ever shown.

A house on the Sam Hammond farm was partially destroyed by fire Thursday night. When the fire alarm was sounded neighbors quickly responded and a bucket brigade soon had it under control. The loss is covered by insurance.

A series of revival meetings is in progress at the Bethlehem church. More interest is being taken in the meetings than in any series of meetings for the past twenty years. To date 52 have confessed their faith in Christ and 142 have united with the church. Rev. B. L. Richards of Spencerville, is the pastor of the church and he is being assisted by a singing evangelist.

HAMILTON ENTERS PROBATE OFFICE MONDAY, TO GET ACQUAINTED WITH DUTIES

Joseph H. Hamilton, newly-elected probate judge of Allen-co., will enter the office of F. J. Becker, outgoing official, next Monday. This action is taken that he may become acquainted to affairs in the office before assuming duties.

Hamilton will become full-fledged probate judge on February 9. At that time Becker becomes judge of the common pleas court and Hamilton takes his place. He is the first Republican to hold that office in Allen-co. in many years.

Floyd Humrickhouse Held on a Statutory Charge

CELINA — (Special) — The mystery of the disappearance of 16-year-old Teresa Pedro, at Rockford, this county, two weeks ago Saturday night remains unsolved, and the authorities are without any tangible clue to work upon.

The suicide theory gained strength this week and the St. Marys river was thoroughly dragged, without results. The sweetheart, Floyd Humrickhouse, who is charged with rape with consent, maintains that he knows nothing of the girl's whereabouts.

Twelfth semi-annual statement of the National Mutual Insurance Co. of Celina shows a gain in surplus of $76,220.25 and in premium reserve of $19,266.71. The total resources are now $519,164.12.

SHE GIVES GOOD TALK TO WOMEN

When a woman with her family cares gets up in the morning, clears away the dishes, is interrupted by the butcher boy, the milk man, the groceryman and maybe two or three agents, and still has a smile for those who call, you can feel pretty sure that that woman is enjoying the best of health.

Women in other cities where Peggen has been introduced tell similar stories.

THIS EVIDENCE VERY CONVINCING

Newark citizen relates how Dreco roused his lazy liver, eased his stomach, quieted his nerves and improved health in general.

Many persons are telling their experience with the great herbal remedy Dreco and the evidence is quite convincing. Persons with poor digestion, weak kidneys, sluggish livers, bowels constipated, and with thin, slow flowing blood declare they have received great relief from this medicine. For instance Mr. Amos Courson a well known Newark O. citizen residing at 18 Forey Ave., says:

"I have taken three bottles of Dreco and it has done me worlds of good. My liver has been thoroughly worked off which stopped the headaches and dizzy spells. My bowels are regular and I have a big appetite. My stomach has been aided by Dreco so much that I can eat most anything I want and it never hurts me. My general health has been greatly restored by taking Dreco, so I gladly recommend it."

CENTRAL HI EVENS SCORE WITH SOUTH IN ANNUAL BASKETBALL CLASSIC IN SOUTH'S GYM—LATEST DOPE GATHERED FROM FAR AND NEAR

SOUTH-CENTRAL TIE IN THEIR ANNUAL BASKET SCRAP

(By BILL CUNNINGHAM.)
(Lima News Staff Correspondent.)

Central and South Hi schools fought out their first basketball game at the South Hi gym Thursday night and when the final gun sounded neither team had won the game. This fact was not discovered until the teams were leaving the gym and Referee Jerpe was ready to leave for Fostoria.

The misunderstanding was caused by the unofficial score that was kept by boys on the railing of the balcony for the benefit of the crowd, which was not correct. At the end of the game this score stood 22-21 in favor of South.

Investigation of the official score book, which was kept by George Dekon, South Hi business manager, proved the game to be a tie—21-21. Referee Jerpe was immediately notified of the fact and upon seeing the score book announced that by the official record the game was a tie.

To the crowd gathered around Jerpe, he stated that the score, according to the official book, was a tie. He said that the score kept on the railing was not official and that it could not be considered. To the disputes of the South men, he answered that it was their own coach that had called his attention to the trouble.

He reminded the crowd that their coach would be the one man that would not admit it was a tie unless he was certain. He complimented South on having such a clean, square coach. He admitted that he was sorry that the tie had not been called to his attention immediately after the game and recommended that the extra five minutes be played either before or after the second game between the two schools.

A NO-DECISION GAME
Jerpe refused to make a decision. He said that the official book had the score a tie and that he would keep the book until he could meet with the two coaches and come to a satisfactory agreement as to when the game is to be played off.

Jack Jerpe is as clean a referee as there is in Ohio. Both schools have claimed this time and again and both schools have felt confident of a square deal when Jerpe was behind the whistle. Jerpe has refereed several of the inter-city battles and it is the sportsmanship thing to do for both schools to abide by his decision in this game.

The official score book, which is the score book of the home team, tallies completely with the book kept by Central. The official scorer was a South man and was designated as the official scorer by Referee Jerpe.

FANS SEE WRONG SCORE
It is no surprise that the score kept on the railing was wrong. At several times during the game this score was wrong and had to be corrected continually.

Coach Detrick, when notified that the score was a tie, said:

"I regret very much that the railing score on the balcony was unofficial. The score on the railing was wrong all thru the game. As the South Hi score keeper is the official score-keeper, all we can do is call it a tie game according to his score."

Coach Young, South, has gained the lasting respect and admiration of Central fans by his clean sportsmanship by calling the attention of Referee Jerpe to the tie after it was accepted that his team had won.

NO SILENCE SHOWN
The game was an excellent exhibition of fighting spirit, but was a very poor game from a scientific standpoint. The floor was so small that it prohibited the work and the only way possible to score was on long shots. Both teams played hard. The game kept the fans at a high pitch of excitement. The score was tied six times and at no time was either team leading by more than five points.

Numerous fouls were called by Referee Jerpe. Brookhart, South captain, did some excellent shooting at important times of the game. Both teams were tired out when the final gun sounded and if the extra five minutes were played as should have been done it would have been purely a game of endurance.

GYM IS PACKED
The crowd was the greatest that ever attended a Lima basketball game. An hour before the game was scheduled to start, the gym was packed and there was a large crowd on the outside clamoring to get into the building. After all the available space had been used, a crowd surged around the outside of the building attempting to see thru the windows.

The contest between the two schools in cheering was all that was expected. The cheers were loud and made a continuous deafening noise the entire game. Towards the close of the game the crowds were out of control and would have probably rushed on the floor if the final gun had not sounded.

Here is the score kept by Central that tallies with the official book which is in the possession of Referee Jerpe.

PRINCE OF WALES SEES ENGLISH BOXER BEATEN BY PETE HERMAN, FORMER BANTAM CHAMPION

When Pete Herman, former bantam champ, decisively defeated Jimmy Wilde, English idol, in London recently, the Prince of Wales was one of the first persons to congratulate Herman on his victory and commend Wilde for his game exhibition. It's quite a cigar the prince is about to smoke in the picture.

There is also in the picture, Lady Asquith is another member of the British nobility who enjoys boxing.

SOME HI SPOTS IN SPORT

Friday night at Madison Square Garden Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, was sent to the floor by Richie Mitchell.

Leonard is the world's champion and quite proud of his title, but PRIDE didn't make him jump up before his head cleared. There is where the champion showed his class.

It was rather embarrassing to be floored by Mitchell, but the champion, instead of jumping up with a trick smile in an attempt to impress the audience that it was a slip, stayed on his knees until he had fully recovered from the shock.

He knew what a knockdown meant. He realized that a knockdown, whether you take a count of one or nine, is a knockdown just the same. When he arose he was ready to fight again.

How many other fighters have made the mistake of jumping up too soon!

Freddie Welch lost his title to Leonard doing that. Freddie was dropped with a right hand that hit him on the side of the head. He was too proud to stay down and immediately jumped up. Dazed and uncertain, he staggered about the ring. Leonard had a clean shot at him and finally knocked him out. Even then Welch was not on the floor. He hung to the top rope, helpless, as he was counted out.

Joe Weiling did the same trick in his fight with Leonard. Joe was toppled over, and at the count of three arose like a drunken man. He had no defense whatever. He was just a target. Willard at Toledo did the same. Billy Miske at Benton Harbor got up punch drunk at the count of five and was immediately dropped by Dempsey for the full ten.

Leonard showed Friday night that his noodle is used for something else than a hat rack.

His knockdown was the feature of the fight.

In speaking of hard hitters and interesting fighters, fans usually forget the Irish whirlwind, Peter Maher. Was there ever a more interesting fighter? He either knocked his man out or was forced to kiss the canvas himself. Get hold of Peter's record some time and give it the north and south.

There are more "K. O.'s" and "K. O. by's" on it than on that of any other fighter in the ring.

Just think of this! We lapped the record book last night and here's what it showed us:

Peter Maher, engaged in seventy-one fights THIRTY-SEVEN OF THESE HE WON WITH A KNOCKOUT. IN TWELVE OF THEM HE WAS KNOCKED OUT HIMSELF.

Can you beat THAT? If you can, trot the bike out.

Hey, Tad!—"Swede" Grinstead, the wonderful floorman of the Brooklyn Pro Basketball Club told this one on another player just recently married:

"The first night that Harry stayed out with the boys, his frau greeted him with tears and wanted to know 'how come'."

"Harry told her he had been playing in Staten Island, and that the game got over so late that he missed the last train and had to walk all the way ACROSS THE BRIDGE FROM STATEN ISLAND TO THE BATTERY."

"The poor girl has always lived in the Bronx and didn't know any better," said Grinstead, "so she got down on her knees and bathed that big bum's dogs. After that I handed this bird the barbed wire wedding ring."

Yours JOE HODGINS.

WORLD'S BEST CREWS ARE TO ROW

NEW YORK—Stewards of the intercollegiate Rowing Association took a big stride forward when they extended a blanket invitation to the best crews in the world to take part in the classic Poughkeepsie regatta this year.

The annual rowing classic on the Hudson is set for June 22 and the general invitation, extended to every big college and university throughout the world that fosters rowing will be followed by special invitations. Yale, Harvard and Princeton, Oxford, Cambridge and other foreign universities, the United States Navy, Wisconsin, Washington, Leland Stanford and California will all receive invitations to send crews.

Yale and Harvard, it is thought, will find it impossible to accept. The annual Yale-Harvard regatta at New London is scheduled for June 24, two days following the event at Poughkeepsie, and the Blue and Crimson crews could not be in shape to compete on the Hudson.

Cambridge, it is believed, will be quite likely to send a crew to this side of the water next Spring. There is a tentative understanding between Cambridge and Cornell that calls for the visit of a Cambridge team or crew to Ithaca and should the English university send a crew it is thought that arrangements could be made to have it remain over for the Poughkeepsie event.

The American eight oared crews have made several visits abroad, but no English eight has ever visited this side of the pond. Oxford, too, may decide to send a crew to the Poughkeepsie regatta, and should two English eights enter the competition will have a decided international flavor for the first time.

The Navy, it is believed certain, will accept the invitation to compete in the big sweep-swing event on the Hudson. Navy will have practically the same crew that defeated the combined Oxford-Cambridge crew at Brussels last August, winning the world's rowing championship, and the Middles have a world of confidence in their chance of winning further honors.

The officials of the rowing association hope for the least two entries from the Pacific Coast. Princeton, it is thought, will enter several crews, probably varsity and freshmen eights. In addition there will be Penn, Columbia, Cornell and Syracuse, assuring the biggest field of entries in the history of the event.

For the first time in its history the main event of the Poughkeepsie regatta, will be rowed over a thirty-mile course. The junior varsity and freshmen crews will row two miles.

This date of the race, June 22, is the longest day of the year, and the rowers will not take to the water until late in the afternoon, probably 4 o'clock. This will bring the big race well up to 6 p. m.

GAME AT MEMORIAL HALL EXPECTED TO BE FAST

A basketball team that lays claim to being the best quintet in the world, will be seen in action at Memorial Hall tonight in a game against the local American Legion team.

Each player of the New York Nationals, the team that is to play, is noted thruout the east for their ability at the cage game. They are all artists, Manager Costello of the Legion says, and hard fought game can be expected.

BOWLERS ARE TO COMPETE BY WIRE

AKRON.—Industrial bowling teams of all sections of the country will compete for honors in a telegraph bowling tourney to be held Thursday, February 24, by the American Industrial Athletic Association. Officials announced here today that 2,500 invitations have been mailed.

As many teams may be entered by each company as desired. Aside from league leading factory teams and runners-up located at the headquarters of the concern, teams representing branches located in other cities may compete. Thus, company championship may be decided at the same time as the A. I. A. A. competition.

According to the tourney plans all games will start at exactly the same time, regardless of where the team is located and the time observed by that part of the country. Immediately upon conclusion of the games the results will be wired into Akron, where they will be tabulated on a giant scoreboard.

The championship team and the man with the individual high score will be awarded handsome trophies.

CHAMP WINS EXHIBITION BOUT EASY

PORTLAND, Ore.—Champion Jack Dempsey and Terry Kelleher of Ogden, Utah, faced each other at Milwaukee, a suburb of Portland, in a six round exhibition bout last night.

The champion appeared in excellent form, and the crowd manifested loud approval of his work. Fourteen ounce gloves were used and the rounds were of two minutes each.

After the first two rounds it appeared as if the champion would have trouble to hold up his opponent, but Dempsey ended up a trifle from then on.

GAB PICKED UP AT RANDOM

A fund of $10,000 for use by organized baseball authorities in investigating any scandal which may arise in connection with the game was appropriated by the major league managers during their recent meeting in Chicago.

President Heydler of the National League is said to have introduced the motion to set aside this contingent fund.

Joe Lynch, new bantam champion, who has been resting near New York since he won the title from Pete Herman, has been booked for two bouts. He is to go eight rounds with Jabez White in St. Louis Feb. 9 and will take on Young Montreal in Detroit Feb. 28.

The champion has not been approached about a return bout with Herman, but Eddie Mead, his manager, says "We'll take 'em all on."

Charles Steinbugler won the national Class B 133 amateur bantam championship tournament, which ended in Brooklyn recently. Julian Mice, former champion, finished second. The winner did not lose a single match, and disposed of Sidney Russell, national Class B champion, by 200 to 160 in his final game of thirty-eight innings.

President Frank Isbell of the Wichita Club, who is wintering in Los Angeles, has picked up a recruit first baseman named James McDowell, who has been playing on a team in the California independent ranks. He is rated, it is said, as one of the best young prospects in Southern California.

Frank Wilson, umpire in the Western League last year, will be a new man on the American League staff the coming season. Friends of Wilson recommended him to Sam Johnson, and President Al Toney of the Western League said if the American League wanted the umpire he would not stand in the way of his advancement.

That assures Wilson a trial in the American League. He has had several years' experience in the minors, including the Western and the International.

The American League was not in existence in 1882, but if you go back that far you'll find an American league officiated in a triple play in that year. Marletta Collozo was playing the Kenton, Ky., ball club. Kenton had men on second and third none down. The batter lined to Wheeler, the center fielder whose quick throw to Johnson doubled the runner off second.

The man on third tried to score after the catch, but Johnson's throw tripped him at the plate.

Johnson is the American leaguer to whom we refer. It wasn't Doc and it wasn't Walter.

Why, who but Byron Bancroft Johnson, old man American League himself.

Manager Tris Speaker will give a Texas boy named Ernest Jeannes, who hails from Maypool, a trial in the Dallas camp. He is but 19 years of age, but stands six feet in height and is still growing. He can play the infield, but prefers an outfield berth.

Manager Wade Killefer of the Los Angeles team says one of the best amateur pitchers he saw on the coast last summer was Bob Wallace, a 19-year-old nephew of the once great slugger. The young Wallace, says Killefer, is going to be heard from in the big leagues if he develops as he should.

His home is near Pittsburg, but he drifted out to California five years ago.

Mrs. Field to enter field of sport

CHICAGO—Mrs. Marshal Field threw down the gauntlet to Miss Anne Morgan today and announced she had entered the field of sports promotion.

"If Miss Morgan can raise $20,000 for devastated France in New York thru a sporting event, then we should be able to raise more than that for the poor children of Chicago," said Mrs. Field.

Mrs. Field said she was sponsoring three championship wrestling matches to be held here Washington's birthday.

BRINGING UP FATHER—

SHORT SHAVINGS

"Willie Jones," said his teacher accusingly, "you've been fighting again."

"I couldn't help it, teacher. Honest, I couldn't," replied the boy. "Tommy Higgins said his father could make better home brew than mine could."

Instructor (at the woman's training camp)—Reville will sound each morning at 5:30. Every lady must turn out at that time. The only exceptions will be in favor of those who have had complexions and need their beauty sleep.

"Where's Scribner?"
"He went into the mountain districts to get some local color for his next novel."

"Did he find what he was looking for?"
"I should say so! He was mistaken for a federal enforcement officer and in forty-eight hours he absorbed enough local color to last him a lifetime."

"What are you cutting out of the paper?"
"About a man getting a divorce because his wife went thru his pocket."

"What are you going to do with it?"
"Put it in my pocket."

"Where is your husband tonight, Enney?"
"He said he had to sit up all night with Jack."
"Did he say Jack what?"
"No, dearie."
"Then it must have been Jack Pot."

WHOLE FAMILY TAKE HYPO-COD
Husband Suffered From Complete Breakdown From Overwork

READ STATEMENT BELOW

"I suffered from overwork and was completely broken down in health, but after taking two bottles of Earle's Hypo-Cod I am a good deal better," declared George Hart of 2123 W. 45th St., Cleveland, O.
"I bought this tonic because one of the men at the plant had bought a bottle for his wife and it had helped her, and since taking it myself I cannot say enough for it. I have bought four bottles together and my wife and two children are taking it too and Mrs. Hart says it is helping the children. It will sure build you up," continued Mr. Hart whose address is given above.
Good health, more strength, better appetite, strong lungs, steadier nerves and richer blood means better work and more fun out of life and it costs very little when you stop and think.
"Earle's Hypo-Cod is simply a newer, more modern, more powerful tonic and is so pleasant to take even children love it and elderly folks say it agrees perfectly with the weakest stomach. See formula on the bottle. Druggists, chemists and thousands of users recommend it above all other tonics as the most powerful of its kind made. Be sure to get Earle's Hypo-Cod in orange color carton. You'll be delighted with the way it builds you up and increases the stamina. Drop in at the store and get a bottle or two tonight.
Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by all good druggists and the leading druggists in all nearby towns."
